Friends, this is a Clock Prophecy Alert for October 12, 2026.

Comet 220P/McNaught is marking a window of fulfillment that may bring us to a preemptive gathering this Fall, whereas we expect the events in Revelation 13:3 to occur beforehand.

Keep in mind that such stellar events are signs that fulfillment is near, rather than fulfillment itself.

In the book by Arthur C. Clarke that became the 1984 Film, 2010, The Year We Make Contact, the planet Jupiter is transformed into a star by an extraterrestrial race called the FirstBorn.

This evokes near identical language in Revelation 14 referring to the 144,000 as being the first-fruits unto God.

The name given to the new star in Clarke's book, although not used in the film, is Lucifer.

I believe this shows that Satan is attempting to insert himself into future events he has been permitted to discern before they occur.

Before I say more about Jupiter, let's take another look at Comet 10P/Tempel 2.

You will recall that this Comet's semi-major axis point, meaning the middle of its orbital path around the Sun, is at 3.065 AU from the center of our solar system.

Many years ago, long before I knew this comet existed, we looked at Clock time 3.065, which splits Revelation 13:3 in half on day 1,332 in the AM layer of the Clock!

I have said all along that this vector holds significance for us, and now we can see how cosmic events mirror Clock measurements as we approach a full manifestation of the Sign of the Son of Man in heaven.

Several weeks ago, we looked at the Comet's position at 3.065 AU from the Sun on September 15, 2025, as the Comet was entering our solar system.

This date seemed to align perfectly with the Signal Code provided by 3I/Atlas when it reached perigee with the Earth on December 19, 2025, which is why I expected us to reach Stage Two of Critical Mass last March.

This brought us to yet another search for the two hour delay which I believe began at the Comet's September 2025 vector point, that is why Clock measurements now point to late February in 2027.

As you know, all times are appointed, therefore no delay is actually occurring, rather God's time is being withheld from us until our patience has been thoroughly tested.

I have discovered that a two hour adjustment is actually built into the structure of the Clock, similar to how two Clock layers split a 24 hour day in half until it ends in early 2028.

I shared earlier that when I queried Google for the date the comet will again reach its semi-major axis point, it initially stalled, then after repeated attempts placed it on the last day of Spring in 2027.

A day or so ago, I repeated this exercise and was amazed to get what I believe more accurately fits the astronomical data I have been able to find.

This latest query puts the Comet at this juncture in its orbit on January 20, 2027!

On the Clock, I am getting massive hits in January, mostly in the second half of that month.

Now let's get back to Jupiter and how these cosmic signs are converging to mark the start of early harvest in the Spring of next year.

As it turns out, Jupiter will reach perigee with the Earth on February 10, 2027, at a distance from the Earth of 1.043 AU, an exact match to the 1,043 days in the black ring on the Clock!

So, we have a January 20 and a February 10 stellar convergence that I believe points to the Sign of the Son of Man in heaven by Spring!

In Revelation 13:6, the first beast has already recovered from his deadly wound when he blasphemes those dwelling in heaven, so it seems that Christ and his divine army will be visible to him and to everyone on Earth in that same fulfillment window.

When the words, Jupiter became a red star, are converted into Clock time using Hebrew gematria (see my exhibit in the PDF), the result is 5:31 PM (real time) on the evening before Jupiter reaches perigee with the Earth the next morning!

If indeed we are given a new star in heaven, that would explain the moon becoming as blood due to light being reflected off the lunar surface from the new red star in the sky above us!

In closing, a few days ago, I discovered yet another kind of "null point" on the Clock when I looked for a verse in Revelation whose Clock time is exactly the same as the verse number itself.

Such a result would give us the same vector date since both would mark the same point in the text of Revelation, and there is indeed such a verse, which I will be sharing more about in the next Audio Alert!

God bless as you continue to hear what the Spirit is saying to the churches:

Behold, I come quickly!
